The National Conference of Charities and Correction

Established 1874.

ITS PURPOSE.

The National Conference of Charities and Correction exists to discuss the problems of charities and correction, to disseminate information and promote reforms. It does not formulate platforms.

MEMBERSHIP.

All persons who are interested in charities and correction may become members by registering their names and paying the annual fee.

The Conference has no endowment and solicits no large contributions. Its support is from membership dues (annual and sustaining) and the sale of its publications; with the addition of a contribution towards publishing the proceedings, made annually by the Local Committee of the city in which the meeting is held.

Each member is entitled to a copy of the Proceedings (about 650 pp. cloth, price $2.00) and the National Bulletin. Sustaining Members (on request) receive an additional copy of the Proceedings. Members are also entitled to the services of The Bureau of Information without charge.

The annual membership has been held at the small sum of $2.50 so that no interested person may be debarred. To meet expenses and to help extend the influence and usefulness of the Conference, those able to afford it are invited to become Sustaining Members, paying ten dollars annually.

The present membership is about 2,000 annual and 200 sustaining. The Executive Committee earnestly desires to increase the membership by fifty per cent. during the current Conference year.

Membership is not conditional upon attendance, but those who purpose attending can facilitate the work of registration, etc., if they will kindly send their membership in advance.

General Secretary,

The Thirty-Eighth Conference

The Conference will assemble in Tremont Temple, Boston, on Wednesday, June 7th, at eight o'clock, and adjourn on Wednesday, June 14th.

The Program

is rapidly approaching completion.

The days announced for the General Sessions are subject to change, but will probably be as given below. The full details will appear in the next Bulletin. The chairmen of the various Committees have made preliminary reports which are now presented tentatively.

The First Evening Session

Wednesday, June 7th.

One-half hour will be devoted to addresses of welcome, etc., the program to be arranged by the Local Committee. The President's annual address will occupy the second half hour and will be followed by a General Session in charge of the Committee on Lawbreakers.

On Thursday, June 8th, there will be a morning session at which brief Oral Reports from States will be made by the State Corresponding Secretaries or others delegated by them. This feature, which was introduced at the 37th Conference, was found very attractive. At this session the various business committees will be appointed, and it is possible that an opportunity will be afforded to present verbal invitations by Cities or States desiring to be the hosts of the next Conference. No meetings of the Conference proper are announced for afternoons except the one on Sunday. The places of meeting will be announced in the next Bulletin.

The Boston Committees

Herewith are presented a few notes about some of the many plans which are being made by the Local Committees for the convenience of the members.

Fuller particulars concerning all of these will follow in a later Bulletin, which will be sent to every member and to everyone else who asks for it. (See front cover.)

INFORMATION COMMITTEE.

The Committee on Information is planning to have an Information Bureau at the Conference Headquarters, where it will maintain a post-office, telegraph office, arrangements for checking parcels, "lost and found" rendezvous, and information about trains and historical and charitable places of interest.

There will be ladies ready to give any assistance that they can to add to the comfort and enjoyment of the members of the Conference.

EXHIBIT COMMITTEE.

The Committee on Exhibits hopes that the exhibits this year will illustrate the subjects discussed at the meetings of the Conference; that they will help to interest and instruct members and visitors on these subjects, rather than distract their attention to other subjects. Hence, the Section Committees are asked to co-operate in planning the exhibits.

Some exhibits will be technical and intended for detailed study of experts in particular fields. For example, the exhibit of the Exchange Branch of the Charity Organization Societies, of immense value to persons who are planning or reorganizing societies; and an exhibit considering various children societies blank forms—classified not by society, but by function—an exhibit to be discussed at a meeting of the Children Section.

It is hoped that some popular exhibits will help the speakers at the Conference to arouse many Bostonians, as well as visitors, to greater and more effective activity for social betterment.

The Committee calls attention to the Social Museum at Harvard University—a collection of photographs, models, diagrams and charts—which illustrates many movements of social welfare and industrial progress in various foreign countries as well as this country. The members of the Conference will be welcomed at the Museum.

Instead of bringing some other exhibits to the Conference, it seems best to take those members of the Conference interested in certain subjects to these exhibits, as, for example, the Confidential Exchange of the Boston Associated Charities, the settlements, good and bad housing and factory conditions, etc.

COMMITTEE ON RECEPTION AND EXCURSION.

The Committee on Reception and Excursion plan the following:

On Friday afternoon, the Conference will go to Harvard University and an opportunity will be offered to inspect its interesting Social Museum and, later, to visit other places in Cambridge of historic interest, including the "Washington Elm" and "Craigie House", the headquarters of General Washington and the home of the poet Longfellow.

Saturday afternoon will afford an admirable opportunity for an excursion down the harbor and, without leaving its land-locked waters, to visit Nantasket Beach.

For Monday afternoon, the Conference is invited to visit two of the principal estates in Brookline.

HALLS.

The meetings of the Conference will be held in Tremont Temple (on Tremont Street) and in Ford Hall (corner of Bowdoin Street and Ashburton Place, beside the State House).

The Section meetings will be held in smaller halls in the same buildings or in their immediate vicinity.

The halls are all new, commodious, well ventilated, and quiet. They are readily accessible from the Park Street Station of the Subway, although they are not directly on any car line.

HEADQUARTERS.

The location of headquarters for registration, etc., will be announced in the next bulletin. They will be established in some centrally located hall or business building, as there is no adequate accommodation for them at the nearby hotels.

TRANSPORTATION ARRANGEMENTS.

The New England Passenger Association and the Trunk Lines Association have granted a reduced rate of one fare and three-fifths on the certificate plan. There is some hope of a reduction by the Central and Western Associations and others.

The next Bulletin will contain full particulars of the rates made, and complete instructions about the method of making use of them.

NATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

Which will meet in Boston, at, or near, the time of the Conference.

THE NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON TRUANT, BACKWARD, DELINQUENT AND DEPENDENT CHILDREN.

This Conference will meet on Monday, June 5th, and adjourn on Wednesday, June 7th. The program will be given in the next Bulletin.

The first meeting of this Conference was held at Portland, Maine, in 1904. The Conference was formed for the purpose of enabling those persons, connected with the Conference of Charities and Correction and who were particularly engaged in children's work, to devote considerably more time to this subject, than could be given in the big Conferences. Each year the meetings have grown in spirit and enthusiasm, until today this preliminary Conference is looked upon as of very decided importance.

The program, this year, will be varied and interesting and will take up such subjects as infantile paralysis and its treatment and a comprehensive study of Institutional training, the parole and probation work, proper housing for children of the delinquent classes and special schools for dependent and defective children.

The President of this Conference, Superintendent W. F. Penn, of the Pennsylvania Training School, Morganza, Pa., and Secretary Elmer L. Coffeen, Superintendent of the Lyman School for Boys, Westboro, Mass., are actively engaged in formulating what promises to be a splendid program.

Six meetings of the National Probation Officers' Association will be held from June 6th to 14th at Boston. All meetings will be open to the public. The provisional outline of the program is as follows, one topic being taken up at each meeting: None of the meetings will be at hours which will conflict with the meetings of the National Conference.

I.

Appointment of Probation Officers.

Should it be by the Judges in their uncontrolled discretion, by the judges from civil service lists prepared from competitive examinations, by the judges subject to the approval of a state probation commission, or by a state probation commission?

This question is under earnest consideration in several states; speakers of prominence and experience will present the various phases of the question; and the meeting should be most important and interesting.

II.

What Probation Officers Do to HELP Adult Probationers.

The ultimate purpose of almost everything a probation officer does for a probationer is in a broad sense helping him, but at this meeting it is expected to emphasize "help" in the narrower and more usual meaning of the word.

III.

What Probation Officers Do to HELP Juvenile Probationers.

The objects will be the same in this meeting as in that on Adult Probation.

IV.

"What Probation Officers Can Do to SUPPLEMENT the Work of Parole Officers in the Cases of Children Paroled from Institutions After Commitment by Public Authorities."

This topic will be presented by experienced heads of parole departments and experienced probation officers.

(Joint meeting with the National Conference on the Education of Dependent, Backward, Truant and Delinquent Children.)

V.

"Work for Neglected and Wayward Children in Rural Communities."

Joint meeting with Committee on Children and Committee on Families and Neighborhoods of the National Conference of Charities and Correction.

At all the meetings in St. Louis last May there was an urgent call for information on the work in the districts outside the large cities. While special attention will be given to that aspect of the work in all the year's meetings, this meeting will be devoted exclusively to it.

VI.

Report of the Committee on Terminology, Forms, Reports and Statistics.

This committee made a preliminary report at St. Louis last June. Its present members are Bernard Flexner, Esq., of Louisville, Ky.;

Hon. Julian Mack, who formerly presided for some time at the sessions of the Chicago Juvenile Court; Hon. William H. DeLacy, Judge of the Juvenile Court of Washington; Hon. Ben B. Lindsey, Judge of the Juvenile Court of Denver; Mr. Homer Folks, President of the New York State Probation Commission; Mr. Edwin Mulready, Deputy Commissioner of the Massachusetts Probation Commission; Miss Maud Miner, Secretary of New York City Probation Commission; Mr. Roger N. Baldwin, formerly Chief Probation Officer of the Juvenile Court of St. Louis, and Mr. Arthur W. Towne, Secretary of the New York State Probation Commission. This committee expects to publish a full and carefully considered report before June and two important topics from it will be assigned for special consideration at this meeting.

Full details as to dates and speakers will be published in the next Bulletin of the National Conference of Charities and Correction.

THE NATIONAL JEWISH ASSOCIATION FOR SOCIAL WORKERS.

8 P. M.

TUESDAY, JUNE 6TH

How to attract Jewish young people to social work, volunteers as well as paid workers, by Chester A. Teller.

A survey of Jewish Social Workers in America. Speaker to be announced.

Business meeting. Appointment of Nominating Committee.

Afternoon.

Program to be announced, very likely of a social nature.

8 P. M.

The members of the Social Workers and Jewish Visitors to Convention will be guests of the local committee at a banquet.

The Settlement Workers of the United States will probably get together during the Conference.

Many other Associations will hold meetings, the Schools of Civics and Philanthropy, Schools for Social Workers, etc., will meet for social intercourse and many informal gatherings will take place.

HOTELS.

There cannot be any headquarters hotel, because there is no one hotel in the city which can accommodate any large portion of the members. The Hotel Bellevue is located most centrally with reference to the meeting places, and many of the officers and some of the principal speakers will probably be quartered there. It has a fair-sized lobby and its restaurants are not crowded. It may, therefore, serve to some extent as an informal rendezvous. The Parker House and Young's are also near the meeting places, and will be used to quarter some of the principal speakers, but their lobbies will be of little service for conference purposes, and their restaurants are heavily taxed in the middle of the day by their ordinary patronage.

The local committee are not undertaking to assign hotel accommodations to anyone except officers and speakers. Others who wish rooms at hotels must write direct to the hotels. Early application should be made for reservations as persons arriving at hotels without having reservations are likely to be disappointed in securing accommodations. The location and terms of hotels will be found in the following statement. They are arranged according (approximately) to their distance from the halls.

The average expense for rooms will be about $5 for the week. It may be possible to secure them for less.

The headquarters of the Conference is in the district of the city which has many good restaurants.

Those desiring rooming accommodations outside of hotels will be placed, as far as possible, near the Conference Headquarters.
